

February 10, 2017

APPRAISAL

The following appraisal references an original work of art by the artist known as Andy Warhol and the specific work of art titled "Self Portrait-(red)" acrylic, silver paint and silkscreen on canvas 50.8 x 41 cm. The work was produced circa 1964 and is referenced in the artist's catalogue raisonne "Warhol", published 1970 by Rainer Crone.

Considering the significance of the artist in art history as noted by the amount of his work held in both public and private collections and the considerable demand for work by the artist it would be reasonable to estimate the current market value of this work at 2.5 to 3 million dollars.

This appraisal has been prepared by Anthony Luzi, Director and art consultant for Bash Fine Art L.L.C. and is based on current market values for similar works by the artist.